I. NEW BUSINESS

Aaron Cloyd: writer-in-residence

Aaron presented a collaboration project centered on the literary arts. He would like to connect arts commissions across the greater Northern Idaho region. The idea is for a 2-3 year program where the person would create a vision and scope of work. The position would promote arts and represent North Idaho as a whole – presenting to libraries, schools, events, etc. Currently the idea is being presented on Facebook: North Idaho Literary Arts. Aaron discussed this with the Arts Commission to gain suggestions on how groups and individuals could work together.
